Welcome to the Regenerative Organic Alliance (ROA)

Thank you for joining a vibrant community of innovators, thought-leaders, and change-makers committed to advancing Regenerative Organic practice across the supply chain.

Why Your Registration Matters

Your commitment strengthens not only your business - it also contributes to the broader, global movement toward sustainability, resilience, integrity and transparency in regenerative organic agriculture and commerce.

ROA is implementing a Traceability System, starting with Fiber & Materials programs. To continue building and strengthening Regenerative Organic Certified® farms, programs, including consumer facing production claims, all supply chain partners will be required to register with ROA and supply current chain of custody certification, specifically Organic Content Standard (OCS) or Global Organic Textile Standard (GOTS). We are offering a Registration with a listing in the ROC™ Cotton Sourcing Directory for $500 per year, or a combination of Registration with ROA Membership at $1000 per year that will include an expanded listing in the sourcing directory (in development 2026).

Registration in connection with ROA Member Benefits

- Strategic Connections. Link up with producers, processors, distributors, and brands across the regenerative organic supply chain.
- Shared Learning & Best Practices. Stay informed with industry insights, collaborative learning, and peer-to-peer exchange.
- Enhanced Visibility with a listing in the ROC™ Cotton Sourcing Directory. Elevate your presence within a trusted network that’s shaping the future of Regenerative Organic Certification®.

Let’s redefine what it means to grow, produce, and thrive—with a collaborative vision and purpose.
